Online Learning

SGMP members benefit from free, on-demand learning in the new SGMP online learning portal.

CORE COMPETENCY EDUCATION

The Society of Government Meeting Professionals (SGMP) has established 12 Core Competency Domains that form the foundation of our national and chapter professional development. Designed specifically for public sector event professionals, these competencies ensure every training session is rigorously vetted, compliant, and directly aligned with the Events Industry Council (EIC) standards.

Learn more at <https://learn.sgmp.org/core-competency>.

The Gold Standard in Government Meetings

The Certified Government Meeting Professional (CGMP) designation is the highest and singular credential available exclusively for government meeting professionals. In a world where compliance is everything, the CGMP provides the rigorous, specialized training required to navigate complex federal rules, serving as proof of mastery in compliance, policy, and procurement. Designed for both planners and suppliers operating under strict federal regulations, this designation is far more than a title—it has shifted from a professional advantage to a career necessity.

Recognized across both the hospitality and government sectors, holding a CGMP positions you as an elite industry expert, opens doors to advanced leadership roles, and sets the standard for the entire profession. As government agencies increasingly demand stricter oversight, many federal contracts now explicitly mandate that contract planners hold this specific certification merely to bid on or manage the business. For planners, earning your CGMP ensures advanced execution and safeguards your agency; for suppliers, it delivers an undeniable competitive edge to win and secure major contracts.

Key Benefits of Earning Your CGMP:

Mastery of Federal Rules: Gain deep, specialized expertise in complex federal regulations, ethics, travel policies, and procurement guidelines.

Mandatory Contract Eligibility: Qualify for a growing number of government contracts that explicitly require certified professionals to bid on or manage their events.

Career Advancement and Leadership: Position yourself as an elite industry expert, opening doors to advanced leadership roles and higher-tier career tracks.

Advanced Execution for Planners: Safeguard your agency from compliance risks, budget audits, and procurement violations through solid policy adherence.

Undeniable Edge for Suppliers: Elevate your property or service above the competition by demonstrating a perfect understanding of public sector constraints and buying behaviors.

Micro-Credentials

The SGMP micro-credentialing program is designed to help SGMP members develop specific expertise across core competencies for government meeting planners. Members can demonstrate this expertise by completing five (5) hours of professional development in any core competency. Hours can be learned online or in-person at chapter or national events. Demonstrate your expertise across three levels: Fundamentals, Advanced, and Expert.

GETTING STARTED

Each core competency begins with the CORE course. Available on-demand 24/7 on the SGMP Learning Platform. Courses vary from 30 to 60 minutes and cover the must-know topics for each core competency.

ADDITIONAL HOURS

After completing the CORE course, complete an additional four (4) hours of professional development.

- Two (2) hours must be completed at the local chapter level. Hours may be virtual or in-person. If you do not have a local chapter, select any chapter relevant to your work.
- Two (2) hours may be earned via SGMP National, your local chapter, or another chapter. Formats include on-demand, virtual synchronous education such as webinars, or in-person events such as the National Education Conference.

CERTIFICATE

After completing the required hours, you will receive an electronic certificate demonstrating your expertise. Certificates show the competency and level, for example, 'Protocol: Fundamentals.'

You must pass the CORE course and earn 4 additional domain hours, at least 2 of which must be learned at your local chapter.

EXPLORE AVAILABLE SGMP MICRO-CREDENTIALS

PERSONAL & PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Professional Networking

View Course

Most of us have never been taught how to network effectively. And for many, it causes apprehension and anxiety. We are here to change that, to help you reframe networking, so it feels more like a challenging adventure versus a dreaded chore. Delivered with elements of humor and improv you'll practice setting networking goals, revealing new ways of answering "what do you do?", asking "best" questions to get to know more about the person than just their profession, and establish follow up tactics to surprise and delight your new connections.

Create Your Own Work-Life Balance

View Course

With so many employees working in a virtual environment, it's easy to feel like you live at work 24/7. Your office is now in your house just steps from where you sleep and eat dinner. While the benefits of being able to put laundry away during your lunch break may feel like you've got a handle on your life, the work you do is on your phone... with you... on the weekends. It can be a constant reminder that you never really left the office to decompress.

Defeating the 4 Horsemen of The Return to Office

View Course

Learn how to manage the complexities of employee resistance, attrition, quiet quitting, and loss of DEI with Dr. Gleb Tsipursky.

PROTOCOL

VIP Government & Military Groups: Best Practices

View Course

Reservations at hotels for White House VIPs traveling with security details have their own set of unique requirements – from aliases, to security protocols and most importantly assigning guestrooms. We will be covering some do's and don'ts for both those at hotels managing reservations, and planners making reservations for the White House VIPs.

Flag Protocol

View Course

Learn about the laws and regulations regarding the U.S. flag and patriotic customs on how to display it. Determine the precedence of and how to incorporate other flags into displays such as international flags, state and organizational flags, and positional & personal flags.

Precedence, Forms of Address, & Seating

View Course

Senior ranking federal government officials, local government officials, leaders from academia and private industry, and family are all attending your next event! How do you prioritize them, how do you address them and how do you seat them?

TECHNOLOGY

The Essential Audio-Visual Checklist

View Course

Planning AV services for government events may feel overwhelming, but it doesn't have to be. In this session, we'll dive into a proven step-by-step approach that simplifies the process, minimizes risks, and ensures every detail is covered. You'll walk away with actionable strategies and expert insights that will help you confidently plan and deliver events that leave a lasting impact. Whether you're new to AV planning or a seasoned pro, this session will equip you with the tools to avoid common pitfalls and achieve success every time.

From Distracted to Productive

View Course

Common distractions make it almost impossible to get anything done. It seems like there is always SOMETHING getting in the way of what you really need to do. But with some forethought and effective strategies, as well as some discipline, it is possible to find your focus, even in a hyper-distracted world.

Mastering Productivity

View Course

Efficient time management is paramount for professionals working within tight deadlines. The rapid evolution of personal productivity technology, coupled with advancements in artificial intelligence, has presented an array of tools that are not only cutting-edge but also increasingly accessible. In this session, Event Technology Specialist Yinka Freeman will guide you through the latest applications designed to save time and enhance efficiency.

Creating a Hybrid Event that Looks & Sounds Great

View Course

This session shares some of the best ways to work with the audio/visual (AV) company and staff to make sure your goals are met, things run smoothly, and the event is a success - all with less stress. We'll look at all the things that can go wrong and how to prepare for them. We'll explore clever and creative ways to do more for less.

Harmonizing High Tech with High Touch

View Course

In our session "Harmonizing High-Tech with High-Touch," we'll look ahead to the event trends of 2024 that skillfully combine advanced technology with the irreplaceable value of personal interaction. Find out how event professionals are using tech to cater to individual preferences, create community spaces, and build immersive experiences that feel personal, intuitive, and deeply human. Join us to learn the art of crafting events where technology feels like a natural extension of the human experience.

AI Evolution: Unlocking the Power of Business

View Course

Are you ready to unlock the full potential for AI for your business? Join us to demystify this game-changing technology and explore the possibilities it holds. Don't miss this chance to stay ahead of the curve and gain the knowledge you need to drive innovation and growth in your business.

TRAVEL: FEDERAL, STATE, & LOCAL

From Travel Hell to Travel Well

View Course

Whether you travel domestically, internationally, only a few times a year, or are a road warrior, you will leave this session knowing the insider tips from a traditional naturopath (natural health doctor) that spent 30+ years traveling around the world for IBM...and lived to tell the stories.

Government Travel - From the Experts

View Course

A session for government meeting professionals covering the paperwork side of official travel: getting a travel authorization approved (including personal vehicle use), assembling a complete travel folder, understanding a hotel credit card authorization form, and correctly reporting travel expenses, with a close look at the parking-on-the-folio-but-paid-personally rule. While the examples loosely draw on Louisiana's state travel regulations, the underlying principles apply across state and federal travel policy, including the GSA, helping attendees from any jurisdiction avoid the documentation gaps that most often delay reimbursement.

2026-27 National Webinars

National webinars are hosted once a month and are available free of charge to SGMP members as a benefit of membership. Our webinars satisfy continuing education requirements for the CGMP and often for other certifications such as the CMP. Webinars are recorded and are available on-demand in our learning portal.

CALM in the Chaos - How to Thrive in Uncertainty Without Burning Out

Government meeting professionals know that uncertainty comes with the job. Budgets shift. Speakers cancel. Priorities change. Unexpected challenges seem to have a way of showing up at the worst possible time. The goal is to build a leadership that can inspire and engage with the audience while maintaining a high level of quality. Through unforgettable storytelling and practical strategies, Erin Mark shares the CALM Framework, helping attendees stop wasting energy on what they can't control and start focusing on what they can. Attendees will leave with practical tools to navigate uncertainty, make better decisions under pressure, and move forward with plans, laying out the direction of the industry.

OCTOBER: 10/13/2026 @ 1PM

Government Travel, Per Diems, and RFPs

A session for government meeting professionals covering the paperwork side of official travel: getting a travel authorization approved (including personal vehicle use), assembling a complete travel folder, unloading personal belongings from the airport, and correctly reporting travel expenses. While the examples draw on Louisiana's state travel regulations, the underlying principles apply across state and federal travel policy, including the S&A, helping attendees from any jurisdiction avoid the documentation gaps that most often delay reimbursement.

NOVEMBER: 11/12/2026 @ 1PM

Government Travel Essentials

Master the essential documentation and administrative workflows required for smooth, compliant government travel. Designed for government meeting professionals, this course breaks down the critical paperwork side of official travel—from securing pre-travel authorizations and personal vehicle approvals to assembling an airtight travel folder. Participants will learn how to properly process hotel credit card authorization forms, navigate tricky expense reporting nuances like personally paid parking on hotel folios, and eliminate the common documentation gaps that delay reimbursement. Attendees from any jurisdiction will be equipped with actionable strategies to ensure error-free travel processing.

Accessibility In Action

Discover how a Minnesota lake resort set a new benchmark for inclusive hospitality by investing time and care into training their staff to thoughtfully engage with a visiting group of students that are blind and low vision. Throughout the weekend, employees learned practical strategies for clear communication, safe guidance, and creating an environment where every guest felt confident and welcomed. This session highlights how meeting the accessibility needs of all guests not only enhances individual experiences but also strengthens a resort's overall service culture.

FEBRUARY: 2/11/2027 @ 1PM ET

The Language of Leadership

In this engaging, science-backed session, Jamie Turner walks attendees through practical techniques to communicate with greater impact and influence. Key Takeaways:

- The Connection Code: Leverage a practical framework to boost persuasion and clarity.
- Emotional Intelligence: Stay composed and navigate high-pressure situations with ease.
- Difficult Conversations: Address tough topics with empathy, professionalism, and tact.
- Positive Culture & Conflict: Turn differing opinions into drivers for team growth.
- Active Listening: Uncover root causes in workplace conflict to find fast resolutions.

Additional webinars will be held in March, April, and June 2027.

Earn Your Government Meeting Specialist Certificate with Rocket City!

The Government Meeting Specialist (GMS) Certificate is an SGMP Chapter program recommended for all planners and suppliers seeking the knowledge to perform the functions of their employment effectively and professionally in the meeting industry. This voluntary certificate requires participation in education programs which benefit both planners and suppliers who are new and experienced meeting professionals. The program is especially beneficial for government meeting professionals who are new to the industry, serves as an excellent precursor to the Certified Government Meeting Professional (CGMP) designation, and offers government meeting training focused on state and local topics. Learn more: www.sgmp.org/gms-certificate.
